Artefacts and Sonic Brushstrokes is painting with sound design. A series of style experiments to transform sound through heavy use of DSP, where the sound design itself dictates the structure of the compositions, rather than a musical beat. A new starting point, a new musical approach and sound signature for Aner Andros. Artefacts and Sonic Brushstrokes sound mangling follows up a previous release, Remap Ethos Stream, and a number of Enhanced Sound Collages available on Mixcloud, where the artist is carrying out a study for his future works. A clear influence of Artefacts and Sonic Brushstrokes is the english seminal band Coil, to whom track 04 is an humble tribute.

Aner Andros has been making music since 1997, formerly known as CGA (five releases under a Creative Commons license). A previous release, Liminal Tales, is solely comprised of songs from CGA. With the new project, Aner Andros, has maintained and brought forward the story telling from the past to its current incarnation, by ditching a somewhat obscure and obsessive continuum and shortening the length of his tracks, to draw oneiric soundscapes in the making of musical voyages.

Aner Andros used to live in Bristol, UK, where he has performed at the Cube Cinema Microplex and has collaborated with Parallel Madness. Also noteworthy are the live shows at Crux Events in London and the Cronosfera Festival in Italy. Aner Andros is currently in between countries and no lives are planned for the time being.
